SLEEP TIGHT IN PAMELA WORLEY'S LATEST ADDITION OF HANDMADE IRON HEIRLOOMS

DALLAS (August 8, 2006) – The Pamela Worley Collection, a high-end iron furniture and accessory line, recently debuted the latest products, "The Bed," and "The Bench" at the Gabler Group Showroom in Dallas. Handcrafted from iron, "The Bed" and "The Bench" are finely crafted pieces with design elements from the collections award-winning coffee table. The pieces are available through fine stores and designers. For availability in a specific area, contact the company's website, www.pamelaworley.com.

The detail on "The Bed" and "The Bench" lie in the uniqueness of the design, the beautiful bronze finish, the strong lines and subtle detailing that has defined The Pamela Worley Collection since it made its debut in the design world nearly two years ago. "The Bed," which retails for $4,100.00, and "The Bench" for $1,500 are part of a classic line with unique designs that have been awarded accolades based purely on their innovation.

"I love to bring furniture to market that was designed with a sense of fun, yet sophistication, that can truly hold a room on its own," said designer Pamela Worley. "The Bed" and "The Bench" were designed with an 'Old World' flair that you don't see in too many pieces on the market these days. And by designing with Iron, they are built to last from one generation to the next."

For more information on the collection or to receive a catalogue, please visit the company's Web site at www.pamelaworley.com.
